What a summer we've had...

Welcome to the Autumn Edition of the Charlton Village Newsletter!

Before we get swept up in what's ahead, let's take a moment to look back at the sunshine and celebration that lit up our summer months.

One standout highlight was our unforgettable Charlton Village Community Day (CVCD). With laughter echoing across the Charlton Leisure Park field, lively performances, local stalls buzzing with activity, and neighbours coming together ... the day was a joyful celebration of community at its best.

Proudly sponsored by The Charlton Village Community Association — dedicated volunteers who give their time to bring our community together.

What a day! CVCD 2025 brought the village together for a fun-filled celebration and a dash of drama. Here's the scoop from behind the scenes:

Stalls, Refreshments & Raffle

Our array of stalls drew plenty of visitors and thrived throughout the day. A few last-minute cancellations did cause a scramble, so we're considering taking deposits upfront next year to help with planning. The church stalls had mixed fortunes - while 'Splat the Rat' may be heading into retirement, the tombola was a runaway success, selling out by 3pm. And of course, the goats stole the show, adding irresistible charm to the event.

The refreshment stalls raised a tasty £526 and everyone's signed up for next year already - legends! The raffle was less of a jackpot (£69 profit), but hey, the prizes were great.

Arena Highlights

Dance groups wowed the crowd (thanks, proud parents!), and the dog agility display was a hit. The Dog Show did run a little over time, so next year we'll trim the classes or speed up the judging and add a little wiggle room to keep things moving.

Inflatables – Bouncing Back

Inflatables drama alert! The original supplier bailed, but Bounce Department saved the day. They didn't man the inflatables, so parents stepped in. Next time, we're looking to get volunteers or paid staff to supervise.

Looking Ahead – Next year's CVCD is locked in for Saturday, 4th July 2026. Mark your calendars - it's going to be even better!

Want to Get Involved?

We're already dreaming up ideas for next year and we'd love your help!

If you'd like to be part of the planning team, lend a hand with setup, or volunteer on the day, please get in touch.

Whether you've got a few hours or a big idea, we'd love to hear from you!

Charlton Village Community Events Autumn into Winter 2025!

As the leaves turn golden and the air grows crisp, Charlton is gearing up for a season of community, creativity, and celebration. From harvest feasts to festive lights, there's something for everyone to enjoy in the months ahead.

Harvest Meal at St Thomas Church – 21st September

We begin the season with a heartfelt gathering hosted by St Thomas Church. On Sunday, 21st September, all are welcome to share in a Harvest Meal - a celebration of gratitude, good food, and togetherness. Expect seasonal dishes, warm conversation, and a chance to reflect on the year.

October Highlights: Quiz Night & Countryfile Ramble

October brings a mix of fun and fundraising:

- Community Quiz Night: Sharpen your pencils and your wits! Join neighbours and friends for a lively evening of trivia, laughter, and maybe a little friendly rivalry. On 3rd October in the church.
- Countryfile Ramble for Children in Need: Lace up your walking boots for a good cause. Inspired by the BBC's Countryfile initiative, Charlton will host a local ramble to raise funds for Children in Need. It's a chance to enjoy our beautiful countryside while supporting a vital charity.

November: Guy Competition & Festive Prep

November is packed with creativity and community spirit:

- Guy Competition: Following the success of our Scarecrow competition, this year we'd like to do a Guy Fawkes-themed contest which invites residents to craft their most imaginative "Guys." Expect straw-stuffed spectacles popping up around the village. We're looking for volunteers to take the lead and help out – so if this is something you'd be interested in, please get in touch.
- Charlton Christmas Fayre & Lights Celebration: As November draws to a close, the village transforms into a festive wonderland. The Charlton Village Christmas Fayre will feature local crafts, delicious treats, and joyful performances. The evening culminates in our Christmas Lights Switch-On, a magical moment to kick off the holiday season.

 More exciting events are on the horizon—check the village notice boards or visit our Facebook page to stay in the loop!

Let's do something amazing
Let's do a Macmillan Coffee Morning

Get Involved!

Whether you're a quiz whiz, a crafty creator, or just looking to soak up the festive cheer, there's a place for you in Charlton's seasonal celebrations. Keep an eye on community boards, the Charlton Community Chat on Facebook, sign up to email alerts on the Village Website or the Grapevine, for updates, sign-ups, and ways to volunteer.

Let's make this autumn and winter one to remember - full of warmth, wonder, and shared joy.

Parish Council Updates

Charlton's Cheerful Litter Legends Strike Again!

One sunny August evening, a merry band of dedicated litter pickers set out with bags in hand and spirits high, ready to give Charlton village a well-deserved tidy-up. After an hour of combing through streets, parks, and pathways, they regrouped at the village bus stop - arms aching, bags bulging, and stories to share.

A curious collection of cast-offs: tin cans, paper cups, sweet wrappers, crisp packets, sandwich wrappers, ice cream wrappers, empty vapes, bottles (both empty and mysteriously full), the odd glove, a rogue pair of shorts, a stray ball, even a road sign... and yes, countless baby wipes. So many baby wipes. The list goes on!

Despite the litter, the team was heartened to see Charlton Lakes buzzing with life. Children played in the park, families laughed together on the fields, and young people kicked back with football and sunshine. One standout moment? A large family picnic on the playing fields left behind zero rubbish - every scrap cleared away with care. To that thoughtful crew: "Thank you - you know who you are!"

The litter-picking squad will be back in action this September. Fancy joining the fun and making a difference? Keep an eye on Facebook for updates and come lend a hand!

Food waste in Test Valley will be collected weekly from October 13th 2025

Test Valley's new service builds on what other councils have learned over years of food waste collections.

- ✓ kitchen caddies are easy to clean — you can rinse them out or even pop them in the dishwasher
- ✓ kerbside caddies are simple to rinse and keep fresh
- ✓ using a liner helps keep everything cleaner for longer

For more information about the new service visit www.testvalley.gov.uk/FoodWaste

Charlton Village Community Hub Project Faces Setback

The Charlton Village Community Hub Committee and Parish Council have encountered a significant obstacle in their efforts to bring a new Community Hub to life.

After months of planning and collaboration, the team was poised to submit a formal Planning Application for the Hub, which was to be located on the car park. However, Salto - whose business operates on the site - has expressed serious concerns about the proposed location, stating that the build would severely impact their growing operations. As a result, they have declined to support the project in its current form.

Alternative locations within the car park have been explored, but each presents known planning challenges that make them unviable at this stage. This development comes as a bitter blow to those involved, especially given the promise the Hub held for enhancing village life.

The proposed design, developed by architects with sustainability at its core, had impressed many. Not only was it eco-friendly and thoughtfully integrated into the existing space, but it also managed to increase parking capacity to 72-80 spaces by reconfiguring underused areas.

A formal proposal to halt the Community Hub project in its current form will be presented to the Parish Council on Monday, 15th September. While this chapter may be closing, the Committee remains committed to exploring future possibilities that serve the needs of Charlton Village.

Footpaths Update: Seeking Solutions for Village Maintenance

The Parish Council has announced that, despite efforts to recruit locally, no volunteers have come forward to take on the role of Lengthsman—a key position responsible for maintaining footpaths and public spaces around Charlton Village.

In response, the Council is now exploring a short-term solution by letting a contract for essential maintenance work. This will ensure that the village remains safe, tidy, and accessible while a more permanent arrangement is considered.

The Council remains hopeful that someone from the community may still step forward to take on this valued role. In the meantime, residents are encouraged to report any urgent issues with footpaths or public areas to the Parish Clerk (detail on page 6)

SO Recycle Planning Update

The proposed change of use for SO Recycle continues to raise concerns across neighbouring communities. The latest representation from Penton Mewsey strongly objects to the application, echoing worries already voiced by Charlton Parish Council.

Charlton PC remains particularly concerned about the traffic implications, with routing expected to send vehicles down Hatherden Road, through the heart of the village, and out along Goch Way—posing risks to safety and tranquillity.

Should the application appear likely to be approved, Charlton PC has formally requested that it be referred to the Northern Area Planning Committee. This would provide an opportunity for the Council to speak directly and ensure local voices are heard.

Local Plan: Strong Community Response

Charlton residents turned out in force for the Public Meeting held at the church on 29th July, voicing clear and passionate objections to the proposed housing developments outlined in the Local Plan.

The plans include 135, 52, and 900 new homes—figures that have sparked widespread concern about the impact on infrastructure, traffic, and the character of the village.

The Parish Council has submitted a formal note to Caroline Nokes MP, who responded sympathetically to the community's concerns. Her reply has been shared on social media (our Facebook group – Charlton Community Chat) and posted on village notice boards for all to read.

The consultation period remains open until 5th September, and residents are strongly encouraged to submit their views before the deadline.

Every voice counts in shaping the future of Charlton.

🎉 Neighbours BBQ & 80th VJ Celebrations: A Day to Remember!

On Saturday 10th August, Mercia Avenue came alive with the sounds of laughter, sizzling grills, and shared memories as over 50 neighbours gathered for our annual BBQ—this year held in honour of the 80th anniversary of VJ Day.

The event was more than just a celebration; it was a chance to check in with one another, reconnect, and enjoy the simple joy of being together.

With music and TV theme quizzes keeping spirits high, and the weather kindly staying dry, the day flew by in a blur of fun and friendship.

A heartfelt thank you goes out to everyone who attended—and especially to those who pitched tents, prepared delicious food, manned the BBQ, and tackled the countless behind-the-scenes tasks that make this event such a highlight each year. Your efforts truly bring our community to life.

Here's to many more shared moments and sunny Saturdays ahead!

🎉 225 Years of Celebration at the Hawk Conservancy

On 27th July, a very special celebration took flight at the Hawk Conservancy as family and friends gathered to mark an extraordinary milestone – 225 years of birthdays and a Diamond Wedding Anniversary (85, 80, and 60 years respectively).

Over 50 guests joined the festivities, making it a joyful and memorable day filled with laughter, love, and shared stories. Among the many heartfelt cards of congratulations was one from King Charles and Queen Camilla - a truly regal touch to an already remarkable occasion.

Warmest congratulations to the celebrants, and thank you to everyone who helped make the day so unforgettable.

Exciting things are happening in Andover town centre!

Test Vally Borough Council have submitted a planning application for a brand-new theatre venue for The Lights - a major step forward for the town's regeneration plans.

Located right in the heart of town, opposite the Guildhall, the proposed venue will include:

- A 400+ seat auditorium with accessible seating on all levels
- Flexible performance and event spaces
- Dance studios and meeting rooms available for hire
- Welcoming social spaces, including café and bar areas

Designed by specialist theatre architects, Burrell Foley Fischer, the theatre will reflect Andover's heritage, while offering modern, accessible facilities that can accommodate a wide range of performances and community uses. It will also play a central role in enhancing Andover's daytime and evening economy, drawing more people into the town centre to support local businesses.

The project is part of the wider Andover Masterplan and is being supported by £18.3 million of funding from central government, secured to accelerate key regeneration projects in the town. It responds directly to local feedback — with nearly 80% of Andover residents calling for a new theatre in the town centre.

View the design proposals and learn more about the project at:

★ Andover Man Nominated for Prestigious National Award

An Andover man has this week been announced as a nominee for a national award. Lee Pumfrey, an Electrical Engineer at local firm Deltic Solutions, has been shortlisted for the Rising Star award at this year's National Checktrade Awards; an honour that shines a light on exceptional talents in the UK's skilled trades.

Lee is one of just a handful of finalists selected from over 2,000 nominations nationwide in the hotly contested category of Rising Star.

For Lee, 45, the nomination marks a major milestone in a career he has built from the ground up, given that he is a career changer. Before retraining in electrical engineering, he enjoyed a successful career as a store manager with Waitrose & Partners. In a bold move, he decided to swap retail for a completely new profession. Beginning as an apprentice, his blend of technical expertise, faultless work ethic and approachable nature quickly made him a standout member of the team. Those who work alongside him say the leadership, organisational skills and people-first approach have translated perfectly into his new role, allowing him to excel at a pace rarely seen in the industry.

Recently that dedication earned him a promotion to Team Supervisor — a role that sees him overseeing electrical projects, mentoring new recruits, and making sure Deltic Solutions' reputation for first-class workmanship is upheld on every job.

Speaking shortly after the shortlist was revealed, Lee said:

"I'm still taking it in. It's a huge honour to be recognised like this. I've had the privilege of learning from some incredible people here in Andover, and now I get to share that knowledge with the next generation coming through."

The National Checktrade Awards are regarded as one of the highest marks of recognition for tradespeople, celebrating everything from customer service to technical skill. The Rising Star category, in which Lee is nominated, is awarded to those who have made an exceptional impact early in their time within the trade — regardless of age.

Scott Alexander-Smith, Director at Deltic Solutions, said the announcement has been met with huge pride across the company:

"From day one, Lee demonstrated he had that rare combination of skill, reliability and passion for the work. He leads by example, and the quality of his results speaks for itself. He's the kind of person who doesn't just get the job done, he makes sure it's done to the highest standard every single time. Seeing him recognised nationally is a proud moment for his colleagues, friends & family across Test Valley."

The timing is also significant. With national attention often focused on big-city projects, Lee's story is a reminder that towns like Andover are home to world-class skills — and that home-grown talent can stand shoulder-to-shoulder with the best in the country.

The winners of the National Checktrade Awards will be announced later this year at a lavish ceremony hosted at Portsmouth Football Club, just a short distance from Checktrade's headquarters. Whether or not he takes home the trophy, Lee says he is "honoured" to have his work noticed at such a level.

"This town has been good to me," he said. "I hope this shows that you don't have to leave Andover to achieve big things. You can start right here and go as far as your hard work will take you."

Congratulations!

Hello, I'm Kim, your local funeral celebrant - you can find out more about me on my website/socials.

What is a Funeral Celebrant? A celebrant officiates at a funeral ceremony. We only get one chance to say goodbye so I will work diligently with you and your family to ensure it's a perfect ceremony.

Did you know? You can contact me directly should the need arise. Or, when you go to see your chosen funeral director you can let them know that you have already chosen me to support you.

Planning ahead? If you are considering setting out your wishes in advance, I can offer you sensitive support and guidance. We can talk about your life story and how you would like it to be told as well as think about music/reading/poem choices. I will capture and preserve your personal wishes for you to share with the important people in your life, easing the burden and lessening the load when you eventually pass away.

A little bit about me...

I've lived in Charlton since 1999 with my husband and three daughters. I trained as a celebrant in 2023 because I wanted to do something where I could use my integrity, compassion, empathy, creative writing, public speaking and professionalism whilst helping people through what is often one of the most difficult things they'll have to face.

What can you expect from me?

The ceremony will be as unique as your loved one was. There are no fixed rules when it comes to funeral ceremonies. You can choose to honour, celebrate and say goodbye in whatever way feels right for you. No two services are ever the same, each one is bespoke.

Creating every ceremony as if it were for a loved one of my own.

CHARLTON

VILLAGE NEWSLETTER

Your village newsletter is created and distributed by wonderful volunteers and printed by Bulpitt Print Ltd. The printed quarterly edition is delivered free of charge to over 970 homes, and can be downloaded from the village website - see below.

Have you got a story to share?

We believe that each of you holds a unique story, a cherished memory, or an exciting update waiting to be shared. That is why we invite you to be a part of our upcoming village newsletter. Whether you have a heartwarming tale, a fascinating experience, a new project, or any news you'd like to share, simply get in touch by emailing editor@charlton-pc.org.uk.

Your stories and updates hold the power to inspire, connect, and bring us closer together as a community.

 The deadline for submissions for December's edition is November 11th.

Acceptance of all advertisements, and articles are subject to availability of space and at the discretion of the Editor.

You can find all the links we've shared in the online version of this newsletter. It, along with all previous editions, is available on our website
